

The Lambi Fund of Haiti

The Lambi Fund of Haiti supports sustainable development efforts in Haiti's rural communities by partnering with grassroots organizations to implement projects such as:

Access to Water

Sustainable Agriculture

Reforestation

Grain Mills

Sustainable Development

Animal Husbandry

"We are a democracy building organization. And we do it from the ground up. If you look at all the unrest that happens in Haiti, you realize that real change must come from beneath the surface. It must come from the majority of the population, from the peasants. Not from the politicians. Not from the elite. And not from foreign governments. Sustainability happens when we open our hands, drop seeds into good soil, and give it everything it needs to take root and grow."

- Josette Perard, Haiti Director

"With Lambi's support, we have built 14 rooftop cisterns in our community. Our children are no longer sick from bad water. Instead of spending money on sending them to the doctor, we spend it on their education. Through Lambi, we have the power to make better lives for ourselves."

—Antoine, village of Bige

Founded jointly in 1994 by Haitians and North Americans, the Lambi Fund of Haiti provides financial resources, training and technical assistance to peasant-led community organizations that promote the social and economic empowerment of the Haitian people.

The Lambi Fund supports economic justice, democracy and alternative sustainable development in Haiti.
